

Critically Acclaimed Korean Film, TREELESS MOUNTAIN, Opens in San Diego's Gaslamp

April 20, 2009 (San Diego, CA) – The San Diego Asian Film Foundation (SDAFF) is proud to announce it's next quarterly screening, TREELESS MOUNTAIN, at 7pm and 9pm, Friday, May 29, at the Pacific Theaters Gaslamp.

An incredibly moving tale, TREELESS MOUNTAIN is a Korean Drama inspired by director So Yong Kim's childhood, and tells a story about the betrayal of children when deprived of the warmth and security of a family home. Entirely unsentimental, TREELESS MOUNTAIN, uses images rather than words to effectively create a world in which the audience witnesses a crime. "With Treeless Mountain, Kim establishes herself as a first-class filmmaker."-New York Post

Friday, MAY 29

Screenings at 7PM & 9PM

Est. Running Time: 89 Minutes

Reading Theaters Gaslamp

701 5th Street, San Diego, CA 92101

This special SDAFF screening will be the San Diego theatrical opening for the film, which will continue to run through the following Thursday, June 4. SDAFF members get a discounted rate of $5 for the May 29th Screening. General Admission tickets are $11, Students are $10, Military are $9 and Seniors are $8.

For more information about TREELESS MOUNTAIN or to download a flyer, please go to: www.SDAFF.org.

The mission of the San Diego Asian Film Foundation is to connect audiences with the diverse Pan Asian experience through the media arts. In doing so, we help build a cultured and compassionate society.

###